Nominations for New Board Members:

Anissa Berasi lives in Glastonbury with her husband and two children. Previously, she served on the Board of the Junior League of Hartford in various roles. She is currently employed as a Director at Virtus Investment Partners.

Lynn Damon is a professional photographer and is currently planning her 5th “Mothers Who Inspire” photographic portrait exhibition for May 2022, an exhibit that captures the unique relationships between special needs children and adults with their mothers. Lynn is a member of the South Glastonbury Congregational Church and the Glastonbury Rotary Club and was awarded 2020 Citizen of the year by the Masons of Glastonbury.

Robyn Liverant Marquis grew up in Glastonbury, the daughter of one of our long-time exhibitors at the On the Green show. Robyn’s professional experience is museum and artist representation as well as art fairs such as the NYC Winters Antiques Show.

Matthew Sexton is Regional Field Operations Manager for Otis Elevator in East Hartford. Matthew is interested in the street and graffiti art form with experience in all types of media, someone who likes to share his knowledge and skills with others.

Joshua Stenger is a first-year graduate student at the University of Connecticut, pursuing an MFA in Arts Leadership and Cultural Management. His main interests are in making the arts more accessible via digital platforms and hopes to involve younger generations in furthering artistic and creative growth in the community.
